Friday, October 25

8:30 AM–11:30 AM
เหมาะ C1011 Global Child Health Course
Pears of Children's Surgical and Perioperative Care in Resource-Limited Settings
Pediatric medical, anesthesia, and surgical specialists working abroad or volunteering for short-term missions may find themselves without the knowledge and skills to provide optimal diagnostic and perioperative management. Faculty with experience in these settings will share resources, emphasizing perioperative pitfalls, plain X-ray findings (when CT and MRI are not available), safe anesthesia and sedation, and pain management.

1:00 PM - 5:30 PM
เหมาะ C1021 Peds 21: Opioids Through the Ages: Caring for Children and Families in the Wake of the Opioid Crisis
The opioid crisis reaches across all age, socioeconomic, and ethnic divides. This program will focus on how pediatricians and pediatric specialists can provide optimal pain management after surgery, injury, and in other clinical situations, while minimizing side effects and complications of opioid use. Attendees will learn how they can confront the opioid epidemic in their communities. Supported in-part by the Conrad N. Hilton Foundation
